Here's what some parents and carers have to say...

"It inspired my autistic child to branch out of his comfort zone and make new friends and learn new things..."

"It allowed my only child to interact with other children and not get bored during the holiday at home because both parents work..."

"It has given us as carers a bit of breathing space as well as giving a chance for our grandson to meet new people and try different sports..."

"Watching my child succeed, come out of an activity happy and feeling safe has been so rewarding and has helped with regulation at home."

"It has let the children go off and have fun while we have the time to recharge our batteries."
